

FDA's External Resources or Information Related to Patients' Experience Webpage

GUIDELINES FOR COVER PAGE

FDA's external resources webpage is intended to facilitate public discussion of patient-focused drug development and evaluation. This webpage provides links to certain publicly available external reports and resources relating to patient experience data. The patient community, patient advocates, researchers, drug developers, and federal agencies may find these materials useful. Please note that although FDA reviews the materials at these links before posting them to ensure that the materials are within the scope of the webpage, FDA does not assess their scientific merit or compliance with regulatory requirements; our decision to post links to these materials does not reflect an endorsement of their authors, sponsors, or content. Submitters of linked reports and resources should refrain from making any statement that indicates, implies, or suggests that FDA has endorsed the external resource by hosting your link, including by use of the FDA logo.

To provide FDA with a publicly-available website link to your report or other resource, please email PFDDresources@fda.hhs.gov. If your submission meets the guidelines outlined on the webpage and in the FAQ document, FDA generally intends to host the submitted link on the webpage. We request that you include a cover page or similar opening statement as part your report or resource containing the information described below, to promote greater transparency. The cover page or statement may be included within the report or resource itself, or it may be hosted as a separate document on the same website link as the report or resource. Please review the cover page guidelines below.

- Title of Resource
- Author(s) and Collaborator(s): Please identify all author(s) and collaborator(s), their affiliations, and their disclosures.
  - If an organization or collaboration group is identified as the author, please also identify the individuals who contributed to the collection of the information or development of the resource, their affiliations, and their disclosures.
  - Disclosures: For the sake of transparency, authors and collaborators (and, if relevant, the organizations they represent) are encouraged to disclose any interactions (financial and non-financial) that could be considered relevant to this work. Examples may be employment, consulting fees, research funding, or significant collaborations with FDA-regulated industry or other financial interests in the development of medical products. The monetary amount of funding or fees does not need to be included. Where authors and collaborators have no relevant disclosures, the statement may read “nothing to disclose.”
- Funding received or granted: Please include all sources of funding received. The role of the funding body in the design, collection, analysis/ and/or interpretation of data, and/or in writing the resource may also be stated. The monetary amount of funding or fees does not need to be included.
- Version Date: Please include the date when the resource was completed or last updated.
- Statement that the resource has not been revised or modified: Please include a statement that the document has not been revised and/or modified in any way after the version date listed on the cover page. If any changes are made to a resource, please re-submit the resource to FDA with an updated cover page.
- Statement that the resource can be linked from the FDA website: Please include a statement that the submitters have any necessary permissions to submit the external resource and that linking from the FDA website will not violate the proprietary rights of others.
- Point of contact: Please include at least a name, affiliation and email address. For specific questions related to a resource, FDA will recommend reaching out to the point of contact listed on the cover page.